Detailed Description of Services:

Flying Angels provides non-emergency medical transport anywhere in the world on commercial airlines with a Flight Nurse or physician. Whether a senior citizen who simply needs someone to accompany them during travel or patients with serious medical conditions, Flying Angels handles every step of the journey.

At Flying Angels, high-quality service begins with our patient-centered approach. A Flight Coordinator, who is also a senior Flight Nurse, synchronizes all the logistics with the primary care provider, and remains the single point of

Quotes from Clients:

My mother was living alone in Florida and took ill as well as having major surgery. I live n NJ and could not supervise her care in Florida. She needed to be transported north immediately. Bob coordinated everything from getting her from the rehab facility to the airport and then again from the airport to the new facility in NJ. One of the nurses that he works with flew down to Florida, met with my mother the day before, packed her belongings for her and escorted her back to NJ.
